IMPORTANT PLEASE READYour duty to make a fair representation of the risk

This document sets out the important information that you, or your insurance broker on your behalf, have provided to us and we rely on it in assessing your insurance cover. Cover is not operative until this proposal has been accepted by us and the premium has been paid, or you have agreed to pay the premium and a cover note, or certificate of motor insurance has been issued.

In accordance with the Insurance Act 2015, you must make a fair presentation of the risk to us at inception, renewal and any variation to your insurance. This means that you must disclose to us all material circumstances. Material circumstances are those which might influence our judgment in determining whether to take the risk and if so, on what terms. If you are in any doubt as to whether a circumstance is material, you should disclose it. Failure to do so may invalidate your insurance leaving you without cover. It is an offence under the Road Traffic Acts to withhold or suppress any material information, or to make a false statement to obtain motor insurance. Our remedies shall be as follows if you or anyone acting on your behalf breaches your duty of fair presentation:

1. In proposing for this insurance:

- if such breach is deliberate or reckless, we may treat this policy as having been terminated from inception and retain the premium; but
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless and we would not have entered into this policy, we may by notice to you treat this policy as having been terminated from inception in which case we shall return the premium; or
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless but we would have entered into this policy on different terms (other than terms relating to the premium), we may require that this policy is treated as if it had been entered into on those different terms from the outset; or
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless but we would have charged a higher premium, we may reduce the amount to be paid on a claim (and, if applicable, the amount already paid on prior claims) in the same proportion that the premium actually charged represents as a percentage of the premium we would have charged but for the breach.

2. On variation of this insurance:

- if such breach is deliberate or reckless, we may by notice to you treat this policy as having been terminated from when variation was concluded and retain the premium;
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless, and we would not have entered into the variation, we may treat this policy as if the variation was never made in which case we shall return any additional premium relating to the variation; or
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless but we would have entered into the variation on different terms (other than terms relating to the premium), we may require that the variation is treated as if it had been entered into on those different terms from the outset; or
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless but we would have increased the premium by more than we did or at all, we may reduce the amount to be paid on a claim arising out of events after the variation in the same proportion that the premium actually charged represents as a percentage of the premium, we would have charged but for the breach; or
- if such breach is not deliberate or reckless but we would not have reduced the premium by as much as we did or at all, we may reduce the amount to be paid on a claim arising out of events after the variation in the same proportion that the premium actually charged represents as a percentage of the premium, we would have charged but for the breach.

Claims and Underwriting Exchange and Motor Insurance Anti-Fraud and Theft Database:

Your details may be passed to the Claims and Underwriting Exchange Register (CUE) run by Insurance Database Services Ltd (IDSL) and the Motor Insurance Anti-Fraud and Theft

Register (MIAFTR) run by the Association of British Insurers (ABI).

We also exchange information with the Police and/or other insurers and/or other organisations through various other databases. The aim is to help us check information provided and also to prevent fraudulent claims. Under the conditions of your Insurance Policy with us, you must tell us about any incident (such as an accident or theft) which may or may not give rise to a claim. We will pass information relating to this incident to the registers.

Motor Insurance Database (MID)

Your policy details will be added to the MID, run by the Motor Insurers' Bureau (MIB). MID data may be used by the DVLA and DVLNI for the purpose of Electronic Vehicle Licensing and by the Police for the purposes of establishing whether a driver's use of the vehicle is likely to be covered by a motor insurance policy and/or for preventing and/or detecting crime. If you are involved in an accident (in the UK or abroad), other UK insurers and the Motor Insurers' Bureau may search the MID to obtain relevant document information. Persons pursuing a claim in respect of a road traffic accident (including citizens of other countries) may also obtain relevant information which is held on the MID. You can find out more about this from us or at www.mib.org.uk

Data Protection

In addition to the above databases, your information, including any personal and sensitive information you have given, may be disclosed to agents and service providers appointed by us, such as claims handling agents, approved engineers and investigative agents. Your information may also be transferred to any country including countries outside the European Union, for the purpose of administration. Your information may be shared with other members of QBE Insurance Group. Information held about you may, with some exceptions, be obtained by application to the appointed Data Controller.

Credit Searches

In assessing your application and/or renewal, we may search files made available to us by credit reference agencies, who may keep a record of that search. We may also pass to credit reference agencies information we hold about you and your payment record with us. Credit reference agencies share information with other organisations for assessment of applications for financial products, fraud prevention, money laundering prevention and for tracing debtors. We may also ask credit reference agencies to provide a credit scoring computation. Credit scoring uses a number of factors to work out risks involved in any application. A score is given to each factor and a total score obtained. Where automatic credit scoring computations are used, acceptance or rejection of your application will not depend only on the results of the credit scoring process.
